Separate Cars.

ALEXANDRIA, VA., Jan. 14, 1892. To the editor of the Alexandria Gazette:

'Subscriber" in your issue of the 11th instart, in a very sensible article on the quest'on of "apparate cars" alludes with much show of reason to the past and present status of the negro, his was t of meatoess blett." There is the rub Mr. Edito:! Let us not draw the line on "color." On n:! we are a law abiding people and that might be thought "agin de law" but draw a distinct itine on the "aroma" leaving everything else out of the quest on—that is good cause, and an insuperable argument. Draw the line there, and the travelles. an insuperable argument. Draw the line there, and the travelling community will be rid or a fearful nulsance. It is true some of our kind and liberal hearted citizens fear he great expense which they think would neure to the railroad company should the ".eparate car" system be adopted in Virginia, but why at? In other ht stes it is a iaw, and in Mississippi the law works admi-bly, for when the travel does not just by two care, I have seen a division placed in one car "one part for the white man" and "one part for the negro." In connection with this let me invite the attent on of our legitlative Solons in Richmond to what is concerded and known to be the wishes of their Retracing property lines, railroads surveyed. constituents on this quest on and impress upon them that their wives, daughters, sisters, cousies, aunts and all their friends, male and female, advocate "separate cars." maio and female, advocate "separate cars."
Woe be to the political future of the "Virginia legislator" who ignorestite expressed wish of his constituent; and fails to advocate the passege of a "separation" law. "Butter, far better for that man that a milliot has be hung about his neck and he be cast into the depths of the sea!"

The Pension Iniquity.

To the Editor of the Alexandria Gazette: gauce, corruption and iniquity, generally, of the ass em of pensions to the spidiers of the army of the North in 1861-65, but nothing 16031 Valuable Building Lots so striking on the sulject has met my eye as an article, "Degradation by Pensions," io the December Forum by a gallaut Federal officer, Lieutenant Allen B. Foote, whose ngures we quote:

The aggregate disbursed by the United States in pensions for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1891, is the enormous sum of $123-432, 202,35. This is more than is paid for tike purpose by the rest of the globe put together, and more than the cost of the entire military establishment, pensions included, of any European power. Yet we may es-teem ourselves fortunate if the total for the year ending next June is tess than a hundred and fity millions.

The entire number of survivors of the Federal military service in June last was estimated at 1,208 707. Of these there were actually on the pension roll 520 158, and there were, besides, 384 551 original invalid claims pending. This makes, to use Lient Foote's words, "a total of the total for the form of Geo. S. Smith & Son, on Fairfax street, letween Queen and Princess street, Alexantria, Va. The outfit contists of one shute wage, two shores, contine and to ler, one woodentter, one of Fairbanks' scales and all other necessary appliances.

Of these there were actually on the pension roll 520,158, and there were, besides, 384,551 original invalid claims pending. This makes, to use Lieut. Foote's words, "a total of 904,709 soldiers who are receiving, or attempting to procure, pensions, and proclaims to the world that out of 1,208,707 living soldiers, only 303,998 are now able to earn a respectable living." out of 1,208,707 living soldiers, only 308 998 are now able to earn a respectable living." On this showing, it is surely not uncharitable to say that the survivors of our former foes are, as a class, either the most worth-less or the most mendacious of mankind.

But we are not even allowed to hope that no further legislation in favor of pensions is imminent. The Grand Army of the Repubic-that most illustrious of the mendicant orders-is still crying for more. Where it is all to stop no one knows, but from present indications these mercenary patriots will never cease agitation until they have secured a service pention for every survivor of the war.
